VACATION TRAVEL ALLOWED JULY 15

Fulfilling its promise to lift restrictions whenever possible, the Maine District Office of Price Administration announced Tuesday a forthcoming amendment, effective July 15, which allows basic "A" gasoline rations to be used for one round trip in the eastern shortage area for vacation travel or travel to summer homes in absence of alternative means of transportation.

Prescott H. Vose, Acting Director of the Maine District OPA Office, stated that all War Price and Rationing Boards will grant permission for these trips on special forms if the Boards are satisfied that the applicant has sufficient gasoline or coupons in his basic ration to make the trip. Mr. Vose pointed out that the new ruling applied only to the use of the basic "A" and that "B" and "C" rations definitely could not be used.

He stated that many people have saved their "A" gasoline coupons for the purpose of making one round trip to their summer homes and that the taking of these trips would not increase the overall use of gasoline.

"We have been working for weeks in an effort to make it possible for Maine drivers with 'A' rations to use these coupons as they see fit, and while the supply situation does not justify an elimination of the pleasure driving ban, at least we have been able to make provision for one round trip vacation travel on 'A' gasoline to provide for a change or relaxation, which is so necessary in the present strenuous days of war," Mr. Vose said.

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY

On Sunday afternoon at three o'clock Bethel Band will present an outdoor concert on the Gould Academy campus in front of the Students' Home.

POULTRYMEN WARNED OF FEED SHORTAGE

With every indication pointing to a much more serious shortage of feed this fall and next winter, the livestock feed committee of the College of Agriculture and Extension Service, University of Maine, this week cautioned poultrymen against ordering chickens without definite assurance of enough feed to carry the birds to a weight of at least two pounds. This means that the poultrymen should have on hand, or have definite assurance that he can secure from 600 to 800 pounds of feed for every 100 chicks.

The committee advises hatchery operators to decrease settings, to set eggs only on order, and to check as far as possible with customers on their feed supplies.

Only temporary relief is likely in the corn shortage situation, and the supply of 50 million bushels of government-held wheat released a few weeks ago is already exhausted, the committee points out.

Tonnage of feed used during the next two months is always relatively light, committee members said, and the real shortage will become painfully apparent next fall and winter. Unless the individual poultryman has assurance of enough feed for chicks bought now he may find himself with no grain and a flock of birds too young to market. While two pounds is not the recommended weight for marketing birds, it is possible to sell them at that weight while they may be unsalable at lighter weights.

The committee also calls attention to its earlier recommendations, which are as follows:

First, cull heavily among the old birds in the laying flock; second, stop all new building of laying, houses and brooder houses; third, take immediate steps to make full use of grass ranges and green feed; fourth, control rats, lice, and mites and avoid waste in feeding; and fifth, continue to operate at capacity as long as possible but do not start more chicks without assurance of feed necessary to carry them to a weight of two pounds.

EDMOND DORION

Edmond Dorion of Locke Mills passed away at the Togus hospital July 1. He was born at Prince Edward Island in 1883, coming to this country 38 years ago. He married Ruth Glines of Rumford in 1921. To them were born three children, Mary Elizabeth Dorion Paine, Edmond Jr., and Sarah. Besides his wife and children he is survived by four sisters and, his father in Prince Edward Island, a brother in New York and another in the Canadian armed forces in England.

For 12 years Mr. Dorion was owner and manager of the stage going from Rumford to Hanover and Andover. He was a great lover of horses and kept several fine race horses.

He was a veteran of World War I and was a Past Commander of Jackson-Silver Post, American Legion, and Past Chancellor of Oxford Bear Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Hanover.

Funeral services were held Sunday, Rev. M. A. Gordon officiating. Burial was at Andover.

GIVES CONTROL STEPS FOR THE BEAN BEETLE

Control of the Mexican bean beetle is one of the problems facing both the home gardener and commercial grower these next few weeks, according to Oscar L. Wyman, crops specialist in the Maine Extension Service.

Mr. Wyman says that the adult bean beetles are present this year in large numbers, and in central Maine they were depositing eggs on bean leaves as early as June 28.

Home gardeners may control the Mexican bean beetle by crushing the egg masses or by rotenone spray or dust. Eggs are yellow and are laid in groups of about 50 on the underside of bean leaves. Careful examination of all bean leaves, crushing all egg masses should give reasonably good control in the home garden.

The eggs hatch into yellowish larvae, given a fuzzy appearance by black spines on their backs. Spray or dust to kill larvae must be applied to the under side of the leaves.

For control with rotenone, follow manufacturer's directions.

Commercial bean growers use calcium arsenate or rotenone to control the beetle. Calcium arsenate may be used until pods begin to form, with rotenone for later applications. On dry beans the poisonous calcium arsenate may be used throughout the season.

The following dust materials give satisfactory control: calcium arsenate, 1 part; magnesium hydrated lime, 10 parts; OR, copper-lime dust made with magnesium lime, 7 parts; and calcium arsenate, 1 part.

Cryolite may be used as a dust or spray. Follow directions of the manufacturer but be sure that lime is not used with cryolite.

As a spray, use 3 pounds of calcium arsenate in 100 gallons of Bordeaux mixture.

WHEELER-GORMAN

Pfc. Edward F. Wheeler and Miss Elizabeth Gorman of Bethel were married at Norway Sunday by Rev. W. P. Farnsworth. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorman. She is a graduate of Gould Academy and is employed in the office of Dr. S. S. Greenleaf. The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wheeler, is also a Gould graduate and is now stationed at Camp Edwards, Mass. Their many friends extend best wishes.

POST DEDICATED IN SUNDAY CEREMONY

The Bethel Observation Post was dedicated at exercises on Sunday afternoon, which were attended by about 150 townspeople. The post has been much improved during the past week by the addition of a tower which is now in use although still in process of improvement. The structure was formerly the judges' stand at Riverside Park, but in its present location it will serve its new purpose excellently. The building was given by H. W. Boyker and the cost of moving and renovation is borne by the Lions Club.

The program also included the raising of the flag given by Mrs. W. J. Upson, several selections by the Bethel Band, and remarks by Lt. R. F. Johnson of the Portland Filter Area. The program:

Invocation, Rev. H. T. Wallace
Band Selection
Dedicatory Address, Chief Observer Elwood F. Ireland
Remarks, Lt. Johnson
Band Selection
Benediction, Rev. M. A. Gordon
Band Selection

Mr. Ireland's address was as follows:

Lt. Johnson, Observers of this Post, and citizens of Bethel:

In meeting here today we are paying a double homage. We honor the boys and girls of Bethel who have gone from us these last few years to do their share for freedom and independence for which our forefathers had to struggle and in commemoration this day is set aside. We also meet here to rededicate ourselves to this same cause and recognize one of our boys who lost his life at Pearl Harbor.

Before we formally dedicate this new post I wish to acknowledge the kindnesses of several citizens of Bethel who have contributed generously of their time and substance to make this post possible: Mrs. William Upson for the flag and wood that has kept us warm this spring.

The Lions Club for the initiative in getting this new tower and the repainting of it.

Mr. Croteau for the flag pole. The observers themselves for the many hours you have devoted to this cause.

The band and its leaders.

It is the will of the observers of this post that it be henceforth known as the Stanley W. Allen Post and I hereby dedicate it to the purpose of keeping the army informed of the whereabouts of her planes as well as those of the enemy, if they see fit to come. We do not want this post to repeat the situation which we must admit was present at Pearl Harbor.

NO ADDITIONAL GASOLINE FOR BAN VIOLATORS

Maine's War Price and Rationing Boards will not consider applications for additional rations of gasoline for the securing of necessary supplies if the applicant has violated the pleasure driving ban or has misused his "B" or "C" rations, according to a ruling issued today by the Maine District OPA.

Prescott H. Vose, Acting Director of the Maine OPA, stated the ruling was made after reports had been received that drivers of out-of-state cars, who had come to this state in violation of the pleasure driving ban or by misusing "B" or "C" rations, were applying for additional rations of gasoline from Maine Boards to take care of travel for food or other supplies.

The Acting Director of the Maine OPA indicated that inspectors were checking out-of-state cars which appeared to be in Maine in violation of the pleasure driving ban. He pointed out that the new ruling, which makes it impossible for these drivers to get additional gasoline for the securing of supplies while in Maine, would put an end to a loophole which some out-of-state drivers were endeavoring to "work" in this state.

"If out-of-state operators drive to Maine in violation of gasoline rationing regulations, they cannot show the necessity for being here, the necessity for staying, or the need of additional rations, and, therefore, are not entitled to extra gasoline rations," Mr. Vose said.

COMMUNITY CANNING CENTER STARTS MON.

The Community Canning Center will open next Monday, July 12, in the Congregational Church kitchen, under the direction of Miss Ruth Coggeshall of Auburn, an experienced Home Economics graduate, who will be assisted by Mrs. Gayle Foster who has just completed a special course at Orono.

Anyone in town, or in any of the surrounding towns who has produce is urged to make use of the canning center, and further explanation of the details will gladly be given by Elwood F. Ireland, community chairman, or any of the neighborhood leaders.

Tin cans will be available for individual use at a small cost, or perfect glass jars which have been tested at home may be used.

There is no charge for using the canning center except that each person must leave the contents of one can out of every five to be used in this community for hot school lunches.

People having surplus vegetables and fruit are asked to donate it for the school lunch program, and volunteer workers are needed at the kitchen for this work. In this case Mr. Ireland may be notified, and it is requested that anyone who has produce to be canned notify the chairman, Mr. Ireland, at least two days in advance.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Everything I pick up to read, or when I tune in trying to find a station with no drama, it seems I run into the "youth problem." Youth delinquency. Everybody seems to want to throw up their hands and give up. It gives me a pain—quite sizable. The whole affair is no "youth problem" at all—it is mostly a "mama and papa problem." Delinquency begins at home.

No social worker is gonna do anything about it, in particular, except keep a nice job by talking about it, and keeping the lunch clubs in a lather on how to fix it. And back to the mammas and papas—the cavortin' gones—the ones who allow their off-spring to run wild versus staying home themselves and keeping the youngsters under control. These cavorters will disappear in time. The wheel chair or the undertaker will finally get them. The mammas and papas of tomorrow will be the Girl Scouts and the Boy Scouts of today. We can rely on them. They will be in the saddle 18 years hence.

In the meantime, the police can handle the bad eggs quite handily if the uplifters don't barge in. A zoo-sulter should be no great problem.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

NEW MAGIC IN WOOD

Wood leads the parade of old materials for which war economy has found new jobs. A great many of the new products now being made from trees do not resemble wood at all.

An interesting story of some of these new products is contained in a 36-page illustrated booklet, New Magic in Wood, published recently by American Forest Products Industries, Inc., Washington, D. C.

This is the third in a trio of booklets designed for school use, the first two being America's Forests and Trees for Tomorrow. The former deals with the history and location of our forest resources, and the latter explains the manner in which the forest industries plan for sustained timber production.

Make A New Truck Out Of Your Old One

New trucks are almost impossible to obtain. If you have a 1940 or later model Ford or Chevrolet truck and are engaged in essential civilian haulage, you can have it converted into a dual-axle 10-ton truck in a short time and at reasonable cost.

If you do not need a dual-axle-drive, the capacity of your present truck can be greatly increased by installing fish plates, power brakes and heavy springs.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The first privately owned turnpike toll company to be organized in this country was the Philadelphia and Lancaster Turnpike Co., incorporated in 1792. New York was the first state to charge an automobile registration fee to pay highway costs and in 1901 collected $954 in such fees.

In 1843 an English woman obtained a patent for a pavement material consisting, among other things, of "oil rubber."

Germany's 'Magenot Mind' May Hasten Nazi Collapse

Axis Propagandists Fear Fortress Europa Concept May Backfire; If Allies Break 'Impregnable' Line Morale May Crack.

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, Union Trust Building
Washington, D. C.

Has Herr Goebbels created a "magenot mind" in his minions which will crumble and wreck German morale just as the failure of the French defense smashed French morale? That is a question which the students of propaganda in Washington are studying with great interest today.

Both external evidence—newspapers, broadcasts, public statements; and internal evidence—reports of spies and neutral observers; reveal two things: one, that the Axis peoples are extremely invasion-conscious; and two, that they are suffering from a severe case of war nerves. But a third more serious possibility is developing.

As a result of the "magenot mind," it is believed that a marked increase in the scope of the air raids, or even a minor success of a single invasion unit, might result in a complete breakdown of Axis morale. Realizing this, the German propaganda forces are working frantically to change their previous verbal harangues based on the concept of the Fortress Europa, an utterly impregnable defense system, back to the original German concept of the value and efficiency of a highly mobile, offensive force.

Last year, when the second front talk reached its height, the German defense propaganda reached a high water mark too. Then when invasion weather passed, the German defense talk died down to be renewed this past April. Everything was done by the Nazis to create the idea that Europe was ringed by an unbreachable wall of steel, iron and concrete. Comparisons were made with the Maginot line; they said the guns in the Maginot line could traverse 180 degrees—in the new German wall, they can swing around the whole 360 degrees. They said that the steel used in the construction equals a bar which would reach from the earth to the moon—the concrete would build a road from Berlin to the Solomon Islands.

Those Six Months

That was the kind of fare the Germans and the Italians were served. Immediately after the fall of Tunisia, for instance, there was an Axis chorus which tried to sound exceedingly jubilant when it declared: "Hallelujah, we have held back the enemy successfully for six months, long enough to complete our fortifications. It is too late for an attack on our fortress now!"

In recent weeks, however, with the growing attacks on German cities, the surrender of the Italian island fortress to forces utterly indifferent to walls of steel or concrete, the German propagandists have begun to realize that they went too far in building a faith in a wall—that their propaganda is in danger of back-firing. They realize that if that concept is held, and if the Allies make a landing at any point and break the wall, the civilian morale will break with it.

So the time has suddenly changed. Now we hear that the shores of the Mediterranean are protected by a splendid mobile defense—there is no south wall to Europe—none is needed. The European continent under German dominance is ideally equipped, far better equipped for offense against any invader who might get a foothold than the invader could possibly be; the diculty of the Allied transportation across water is stressed, the power of the submarine is emphasized.

But this about-face, according to observers here, has come pretty late and can hardly create much confidence on the part of a nation which has had the myth of the Fortress Europa pounded into it for over a year.

About the Luftwaffe

There is another factor, of course, which is working against enemy morale; that is, the fact that the hardest blows now struck come from the air with the weapon which Italy exalted and which Hitler forged and put into effect in the form of his one-time invincible Luftwaffe.

Meanwhile, what has happened to the Luftwaffe—which some people have called the "vanished" Luftwaffe?

We have heard much about it during past months, but very little has been of a definite nature.

Well, the paper strength of Germany's air force has been pretty well plotted from data obtained in confidential reports to Allied headquarters here and abroad. This is what it looks like:

A maximum overall, first-line German force of between four and five thousand planes. (Even as I write, it is probably declining in numbers.) The whole is divided into five "Luftflotte" (airfleets) one of which, until the middle of June, was putting up a considerable offensive effort on the northern Russian front. It is (or was) under General Keller and it may originally have been composed of 2,500 planes. That estimate is questioned by some American observers.

The second fleet was under General Plesslering was in the Mediterranean area. It was estimated shortly after Tunisia as 800 strong but probably soon thereafter was considerably "wasted" and not very efficient because it was spread thinly over a long coast line with Italy as a weak link.

The Remainder

The third fleet was under General Sperle—perhaps fifteen hundred planes with the tremendous and growing task of guarding the German industrial area, the submarine ports all the way to the bay of Biscay—and also the duty of meeting an invasion at any point along that long coast line.

Then there was General Richthofen's fleet in southern Russia and General Stumpf's at the other end of the stick in Norway with what was left.

Besides these fleets, or a part of them perhaps, were certain "Fliegerkorps"—mobile units which attempted to come to the rescue when some area was in dire distress. But the whole force, the experts believe, is spread so thin that in case of simultaneous air attack, great gaps have to be left which would make (and already have made) Allied air invasion safe and, as a corollary, would do the same for land invasion beneath it.

The Luftwaffe has not vanished. It is still a powerful weapon and the Germans are trying to maintain its strength by concentrating on the production of fighter planes. But the days when Hitler's evil angels darkened the skies and fortunes of Europe are over.

Diary of a Broadcaster

This "share-a-taxi" system is really working out very well, but it requires quick thinking. I heard a very charming but disappointed young lady telling her tale of woe today.

"I had to get to my dentist this noon and I stopped a cab with someone in it. The driver said he had to go to the Mayflower hotel first. That was only a few blocks out of the way but I was in a hurry so I said 'no.' As the cab started off, I looked at the passenger. And was I sorry I said 'no'—it was Wendell Willkie!"

I thought: This "One World" isn't so small after all!

Cool Salads, Drinks,

Family Comfortable

You will bless the sandwich, salad and cool drink ideas on those warm days when it is too hot to roast the meat and cook all your vegetables. Set the table in your coolest colors with coolest foods, and don your coolest frock, and you will be giving your family the best—on the home front.

It's doubly important that you keep yourself and your family fit during these times as there are so many activities demanding buoyant health and energy. Even though the food you serve is on the cool side, make every bit of it count as far as its nourishment is concerned.

Cram the salads full of vitamins and minerals, and plan your menus to give your family a well-balanced diet. Foods served during the summer should be even more appetizing than foods served during other seasons, for appetites tend to lag.

If the family does not want to eat a great deal during the meal proper, make the snacks count. For instance, the milk drinks will help to get in the pint daily for adults, and the quart for children. You'll enjoy this simple and delicious beverage:

Ginger Cooler.
(Makes 1 tall glass)

1 cup milk, chilled

½ teaspoon salt

2 to 3 tablespoons vanilla ice cream

Pour into a tall, chilled glass. Add salt and stir in ginger ale. Top with ice cream and serve immediately.

Orange Sherbet.
(Makes 1 quart)

1½ cups sugar

1 cup water

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

2 cups orange juice

3 tablespoons lemon juice

Boil sugar and water together for 5 minutes. Beat slowly into egg whites. Add fruit juices. Pour into freezing tray and set cold control at fast freezing. Freeze stiff, then beat or stir thoroughly. Return to freezing compartment and finish freezing. Serve in sherbet glasses, garnishing each with sprig of mint and a half slice of unpeeled orange.

Salads that are full of protein and that keep the cook cool are these that fill the main dish order of summer meals:

Royal Lamb Salad.
(Serves 6)

2 cups diced, cooked lamb

1 cup diced celery

Point Savers: Don't stretch those points out of joint when you're making sandwich fillings. Try these suggestions:

Diced chicken, green pepper, pickle, mayonnaise.

Sliced chicken with orange marmalade, or sliced chicken and dill pickle, sliced.

Cottage cheese and crisp, chopped bacon.

Hard-cooked egg, chopped with minced pimientos, diced green pepper, and mayonnaise and chili sauce to moisten.

Chopped hard-cooked egg, chopped stuffed olives, mayonnaise.

Chopped hard-cooked eggs and catsup to moisten.

Peanut butter, raspberry jam.

Shredded cabbage, grated pineapple, mayonnaise.

Cookies

*Recipe given

1 cup Bing cherries

4 hard-cooked eggs

½ cup chopped nuts

1 teaspoon salt

1 cup mayonnaise

Salad greens

Combine all ingredients except mayonnaise and chill thoroughly.

Just before serving, toss in mayonnaise lightly and serve on a bed of greens. If desired, garnish with additional slices of hard-cooked eggs and cherries.

Veal and Bacon Salad.
(Serves 6)

2½ cups cold, cooked, veal, diced

½ cup crisp bacon, finely cut

¼ cup diced celery

¼ cup radish slices

½ cup mayonnaise

6 small tomatoes

Mix the veal and the bacon with the celery, radishes and mayonnaise and chill. Place each peeled tomato in a lettuce cup. Cut down several sections to open. Place a mound of the salad mixture into each tomato and top with mayonnaise.

Occasionally a fruit salad is all that is desired for a simple luncheon. In that case, make it as attractive and nourishing as possible:

Summer Fruit Salad.
(Serves 6)

1 medium cantaloupe, peeled and cut in cubes

2 cups raspberries or dewberries

2 cups diced fresh pineapple

Chill and mix lightly together.

Serve portions on crisp lettuce or watercress and top with mayonnaise flavored with honey.

Finger sandwiches go well with the salads to round out the meal and are both cool and delicious:

Ground boiled ham with ground pickles and mayonnaise.

Cottage cheese, chopped stuffed olives, nuts.

Peanut butter, raspberry jam.

Chopped dates, orange juice, chopped nuts.

Mashed cooked shrimp and cream cheese.

Cookies like these will go well with your fresh fruits:

Molasses Raisin Bars.

¼ cup shortening

¼ cup sugar

1 egg

½ cup baking molasses

2 cups sifted flour

¼ teaspoon soda

¼ teaspoon salt

1½ teaspoons baking powder

½ cup sweet milk

1 cup chopped nuts

1 cup raisins

Cream shortening, add sugar and beat lightly. Add egg, beat well, then add molasses. Sift flour with dry ingredients and add alternately with milk to first mixture. Add chopped nuts and raisins. Spread thinly in greased shallow pan and bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven for 15 to 20 minutes. Cut in bars before cooling.

One thing a soldier is afraid of is a display of emotion. That's why his slang so often sounds derogatory. For example, he refers to the silver eagles on his colonel's shoulder straps as "buzzards." But when he speaks of his favorite cigarette, he says: "Camels." They're first with men in the Army as well as with Sailors, Marines, and Coast Guardsmen. (According to actual sales records in service men's stores.) And though there are Post Office restrictions on packages to overseas Army men, you can still send Camels to soldiers in the U. S., and to men in the Navy, Marines, and Coast Guard wherever they are.—Adv.

JACKSON-SILVER UNIT

At the July meeting, the first presided over by our new Auxiliary president, Bertha Mason, the following chairmen were appointed: Americanism, Evelyn Barrett; Membership and Publicity, Celia Lamb; Poppy, Bertha Mason. Other appointments will be announced at the August meeting.

It was voted to send a remembrance to our sick members, Mildred and Joyce Cummings, Cora Bennett and Idella Morgan.

A rising vote of thanks was given Fred Mason by the Post, in which the Unit joins, for installing screens on the windows and door of the Legion Home. This will add a great deal to the comfort of the members during the summer meetings.

Earl Chalney of Bryant Pond was the second veteran of World War II to be received into membership in the Post. He was formerly a member of 1142nd MP Co. (Avn.)

On Sunday, July 4, 26 members of the Legion, Auxiliary and State Guard, commanded by Lester Tebbets, accompanied the body of Past Commander Edmond Dorion to his last resting place in the beautiful old cemetery at Andover, where he was buried with military honors. Bearers were Frank Bean, Raynor Littlefield, Herman Cummings, and Verner Smith. The colors were borne by Fred Mason and Charles Clifford, with Elias Roberts and Earl Chalney as Color Guards. The burial service was read by Chaplain Roy Morgan who presented the flag to Mrs. Dorion. It was a sad, though beautiful ceremony, with the treetops seeming to echo the words read by the Rev. M. A. Gordon, who delivered the eulogy, "He is not dead. He is just away."

During the month of July, the Legion and Auxiliary have been given the task of making another drive for old used records. Much publicity has been given in the newspapers and magazines as well as over the radio, but the success of the drive will depend mostly on those who have these records to donate and who will dig them out, notify some member of the Legion or Auxiliary, or deliver them at some designated place. It takes 15 or 16 old records to make one new record to send our boys away, who are begging for them.

Figure It Out Yourself. How can you effectively join in saving all the little children of the world from human slavery, death and injury from the Nazis and Japanese? Put more and more of your pay into war bonds every payday. Your savings will go to war in the form of war equipment and other munitions. How much more should you put into war bonds? The only ones who can answer that are—you and your family. It's up to you to decide just how much more you'll do to win the war.

If you were fighting in the Solomon or in Africa or forcing a landing in Europe you'd like to feel that the folks at home were back of you—all the way—you'd be proud of your family and your friends if you knew they were buying war bonds not at 10 per cent or 15 per cent, but with every cent beyond that which they need for necessities.

Playing safe is a way many go through life. A dangerous course of action is to play safe by occasionally attending church or muniting a few words of prayer, just in case there is something to religion. God knows the thoughts of all!

Playing safe with our social, financial, and religious affairs means one has to become a copy cat. That is accept what others do, think and say without deciding for ourselves whether they are right or wrong. This method is what can be termed the easiest way in life. Thus, some become neutralized and never realize they are actually using the strong acid of life, which very quickly corrodes and rusts them into discouragement.

Playing safe is a means in which some use God's power only when they find themselves plunging out of control, over the dangerous mountain cliffs of life. Strangely enough, these are the very ones, who expect to find an ambulance of religion waiting at the bottom of life's low points to hastily blind up their wounds of trouble.

Those who play square with God, others, and themselves know that it is the person who is constantly listening with their spiritual ears, who really find their refuge in God!
